

BLOG COMMENT POLICY

When it comes to economic development, Wisconsin is kind of a big deal. An even bigger deal are the people and places that make our state incredible. WEDC is proud to work with our partners and Wisconsin's incredible businesses and communities to create original blog posts. We welcome your comments on these posts, but let's establish some ground rules.

We, the WEDC team, reserve the right to not approve comments at our discretion. Comments that will not be published include but are not limited to:

- Profanity
- Personal attacks or harassment
- Threats of violence
- Comments that violate the law or common decency
- Comments that do not directly relate to the post
- Sales pitches/promotional content
- SPAM
- Comments that include an invalid email or false name

WEDC does not assume any responsibility or liability for any posting. By participating in WEDC's blogs, you agree to waive any legal or equitable rights or remedies you may have against WEDC with respect to these rules, including, but not limited to: posting restrictions, post deletions, or participation blocks. All published and unpublished comments will be retained in accordance with Wisconsin Statutes §§ 19.31-39.
